PORTFOLIO MANAGER'S COMMENTS

In June, global markets were impacted by the US Federal Reserve adopting a more hawkish tone to monetary policy, while the spread of the Delta variant of COVID-19 resulted in stricter lockdown measures in several countries, especially those further behind in their vaccination roll-out.

This resulted in a rebound of the US dollar and flattening of the yield curve, leading to outperformance of US and growth shares. The MSCI World Index closed the month 1.5% higher in US dollar terms, and 13.3% higher on a year-to-date basis. SA listed equities, as measured by the FTSE/JSE All Share Index (ALSI), struggled in this environment, closing the month 2.4% lower (-6.3% in US dollar terms). However, year to date the ALSI (+16.0%) remains ahead of the MSCI World Index (+13.3%) in US dollar terms.

The rand reversed some of its strong gains over prior months, depreciating from 13.74/US$ to 14.27/US$ by the end of June. Most of the local equity sectors declined during the month, but mining shares were particularly weak (-13.6%), while banks ended 3.2% weaker. Rand-hedge share Richemont (+3.5%) bucked the trend given the weaker rand, while listed property (+3.0%) also had a decent month, continuing to stage a recovery from a low base.

Local bonds delivered a steady return at 1.1% in June, up 5.0% year to date. Cash returned 0.3% for the month.

The Shariah portfolio returned -0.36% (benchmark: -1.59%) in June. No changes were made to the portfolio during the month.
